

2nd semester

Topic 16:

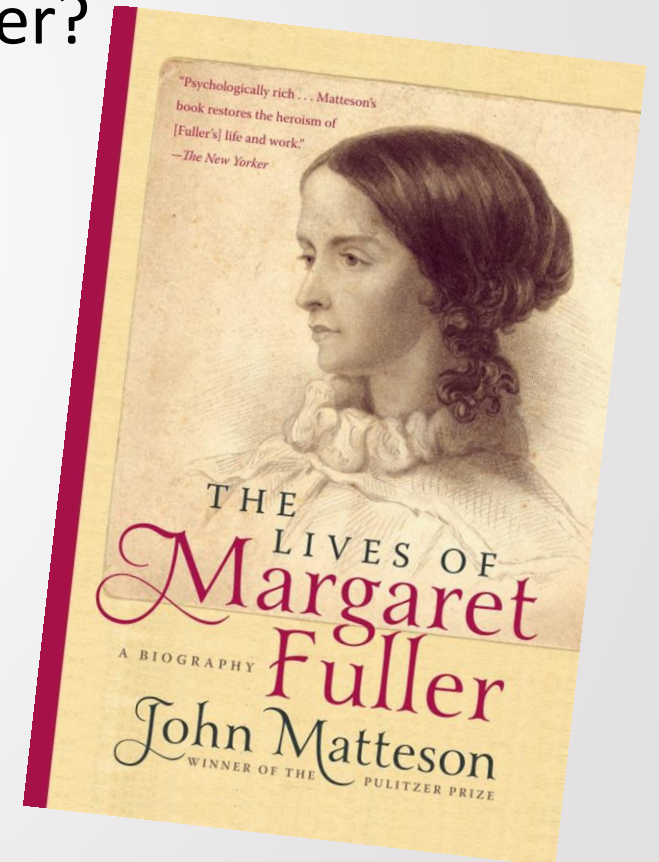

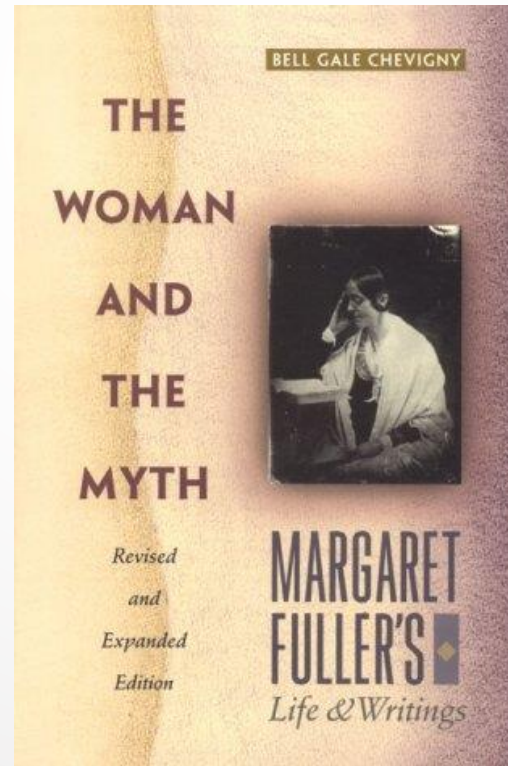

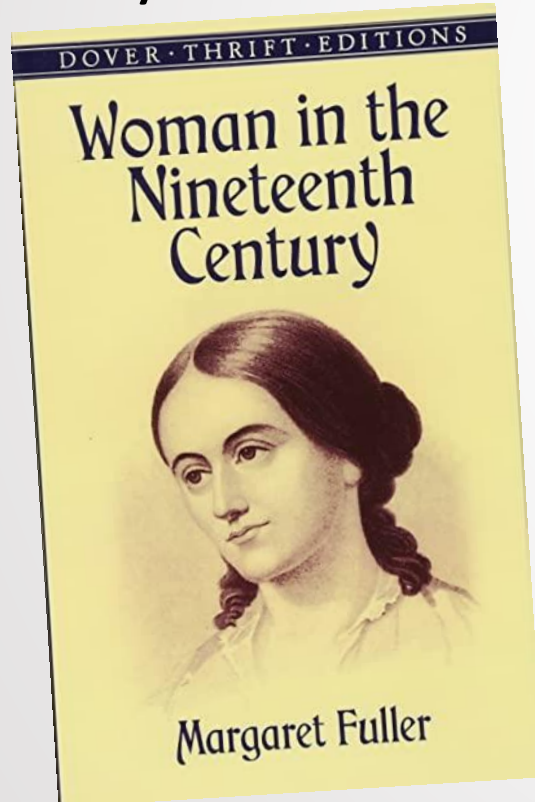

“Margaret Fuller”

“A house is no home unless it contain food
and fire for the mind as well as for the body.”

Answer the question

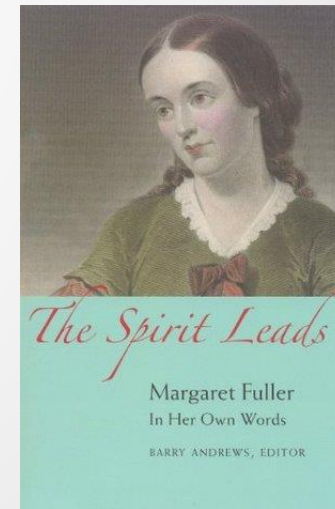

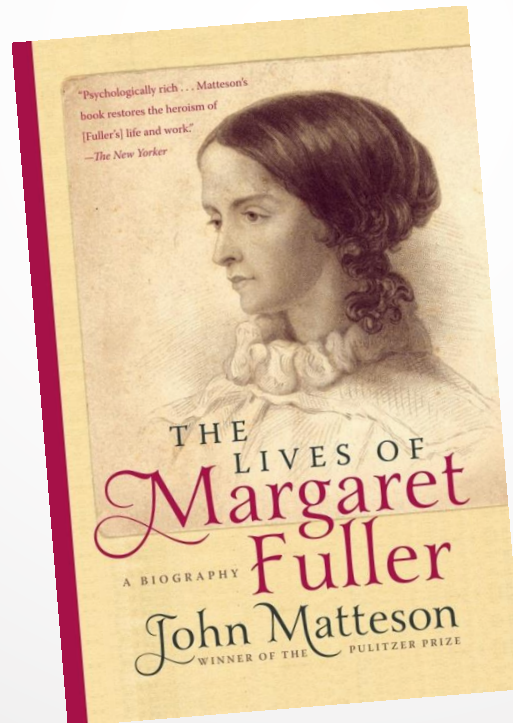

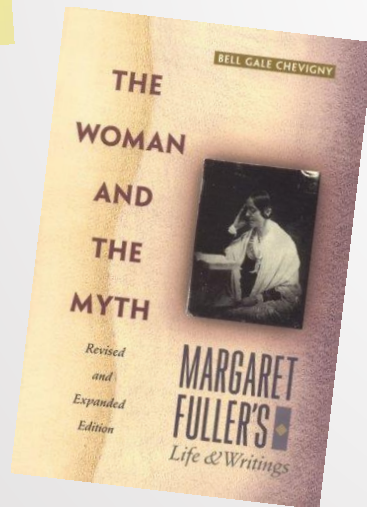

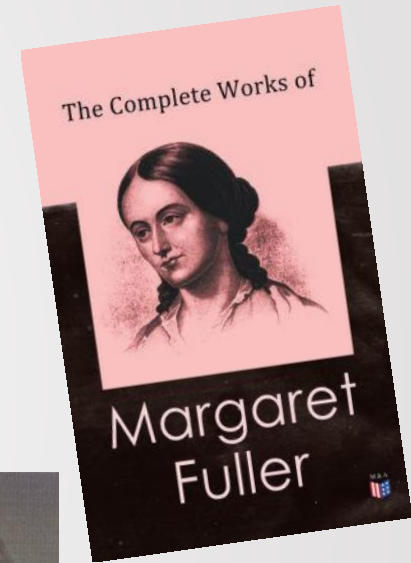

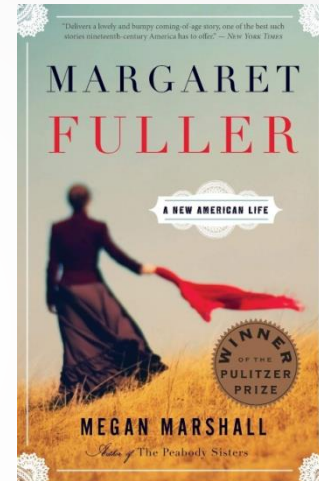

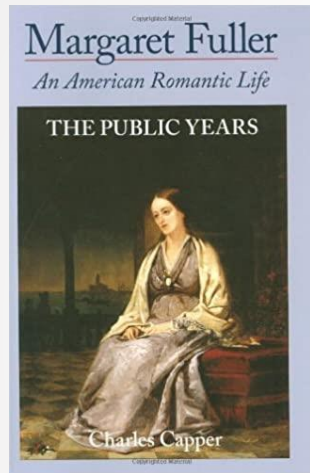

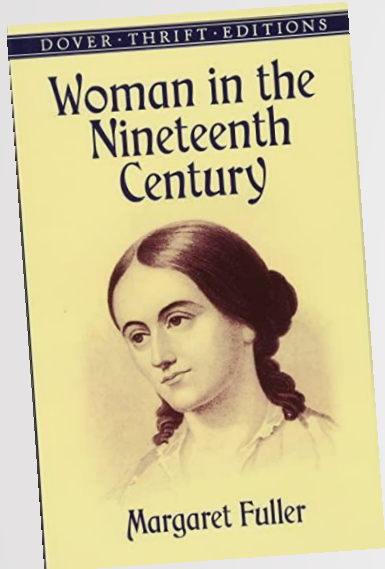

- Have you ever read a book written by Margaret Fuller?

Short biography

- Margaret Fuller was born Sarah Margaret Fuller on May 23, 1810 in Cambridgeport, Massachusetts. She was a very intelligent, even precocious, child who received an intense education from her father, Timothy Fuller, learning Greek and Latin at a very early age. Her father was a prominent lawyer and later a Congressman. She attended several schools and continued to educate herself, learning German and Italian, and would soon do translations of Goethe and Bettina von Arnim. Her father's death brought financial problems for the family, and she became responsible for the education of her younger siblings. She taught school, especially at Bronson Alcott's Temple School and the Green Street School in Providence, RI, for two years, but that gave her too little time for her writing.

Margaret Feller's books

Answer the questions

- With what type of regeneration is Fuller concerned?
- How did Margaret Fuller died?
- What is Margaret Fuller's most famous for?
- How did Margaret Fuller improved American life?
- What was Margaret Fuller's parents names?